

OLD MONEY:

1. East Coast Prep / Ivy League Old Money
The “boarding school + yacht club + inherited library” look. Clean, understated, polished.
Vibe:
 - Cable knit sweaters
 - Loafers, polos, chinos
 - Navy, beige, forest green, burgundy
 - Tennis, rowing, golf, sailing energy
 - Monograms, but subtleThink: quiet confidence, legacy-family aura.
2. European Aristocratic Old Money
Feels like countryside estates, castles, generational portraits staring at you from hallways.
Vibe:
 - Tweed blazers, wool coats
 - Riding boots, scarves, tailored fits
 - Cream, brown, charcoal, olive
 - Horses, vineyards, historic homesMore refined and heritage-heavy.
3. Italian Riviera Old Money
Sunlight on linen shirts, expensive but effortless.
Vibe:
 - Linen everything
 - Open collars, tailored trousers
 - Neutral whites, sand, navy, muted blues
 - Yacht summer, coastal cafésFeels rich without trying.
4. British Countryside Old Money
A little rugged, a little aristocratic.
Vibe:
 - Tweed jackets
 - Waxed coats, knitwear
 - Dark greens, browns, tartans
 - Hunting-lodge, rainy estate moodThink quiet luxury with muddy boots.
5. Dark Academia Old Money
Old libraries, classical music, rainy windows, inherited bookshelves.
Vibe:
 - Turtlenecks, trench coats, wool trousers
 - Brown, black, deep green, oxblood
 - Literature, philosophy, vintage watchesMore intellectual than flashy.
6. Quiet Luxury / Minimalist Old Money
The modern version. Less “family crest,” more “expensive because the fabric whispers.”
Vibe:
 - Minimal fits
 - Neutral palettes
 - Tailored basics
 - No giant logosLuxury hidden in quality.
7. Coastal Old Money (Hamptons/Cape style)
Beach-house wealth, soft mornings, tennis club weekends.

Vibe:

- Light sweaters over shoulders
- White shirts, khaki shorts
- Pastels, whites, navy
- Sailing and summer-house energy

8. Equestrian Old Money

Horse-riding aristocrat energy.

Vibe:

- Riding boots
 - Structured blazers
 - Gloves, belts, fitted trousers
 - Earthy tones
9. Academic/Heritage Gentleman Old Money

Feels professor-ish but wealthy.

Vibe:

- Pocket watches, wool coats
 - Oxford shirts, loafers
 - Muted palettes
 - Library-core
- A quick cheat-sheet:
- Clean rich student → East Coast Prep
 - Castle heir → European Aristocratic
 - Rich summer vacation → Italian Riviera
 - Moody intelligent rich → Dark Academia
 - “Money but no logos” → Quiet Luxury
 - Coastal generational wealth → Hamptons/Coastal
 - Horse estate energy → Equestrian

Old money fashion is basically a language of restraint: fewer logos, better fabrics, calmer colours, and the confidence of not needing to announce itself. Quiet thunder in tailored clothing.

STREET WEAR:

Streetwear has its own galaxy of substyles too. Same city, different sidewalks.

1. Skater Streetwear

Born from skate culture, rough-edged and effortless.

Vibe:

- Baggy jeans, cargos
 - Oversized tees, hoodies
 - Skate shoes, beanies
 - Graphic prints, worn textures
- Mood: “I might film a skate edit at sunset.”

2. Tech wear / Cyber Streetwear

Futuristic, utility-heavy, almost dystopian.

Vibe:

- Utility pockets, straps
 - Waterproof jackets, cargos
 - Black, grey, tactical palettes
 - Chunky sneakers, crossbody gear
- Feels like surviving rain in a neon city.

3. Luxury Streetwear

Streetwear meets expensive tailoring.

Vibe:

- Minimal graphics
 - Premium fabrics
 - Statement sneakers
 - Monochrome fits with one loud piece
- Quiet flex, expensive hoodie energy.
4. Y2K Streetwear
Early-2000s internet nostalgia.
Vibe:
- Baggy denim
 - Chrome details, layered tops
 - Jerseys, oversized fits
 - Metallic accents, distressed pieces
- Feels like an old MTV music video.
5. Vintage / Retro Streetwear
Thrift-core with nostalgia.
Vibe:
- Vintage tees
 - Faded denim, varsity jackets
 - 80s/90s sportswear influence
 - Layered textures
- Looks accidental, secretly curated.
6. Japanese Streetwear
Fashion-forward, experimental, silhouette-driven.
Vibe:
- Wide fits, layering
 - Asymmetry, textures
 - Neutral palettes or intentional chaos
 - Fashion as storytelling
- Often inspired by Tokyo street culture.
7. Minimalist Streetwear
Streetwear without visual noise.
Vibe:
- Clean oversized basics
 - Neutral colors
 - Subtle branding or none
 - Sharp silhouettes
- Calm, modern, effortless.
8. Gorpcore Streetwear
Outdoor gear became fashion.
Vibe:
- Hiking jackets, fleeces
 - Utility pants
 - Functional sneakers
 - Earth tones + technical fabrics
- Looks ready for a mountain and coffee shop.
9. Hip-Hop / Urban Streetwear
Classic rap-culture influence.
Vibe:
- Oversized fits
 - Chains, varsity jackets
 - Sneakers, caps

- Bold graphics and layering
High presence, confident styling.

10. Grunge Streetwear

Messy-on-purpose rebellion.

Vibe:

- Distressed denim
 - Flannels, oversized knits
 - Dark colours, layered chaos
 - Chunky shoes
- Rainy-night playlist energy.

11. Archive / Avant-Garde Streetwear

Fashion nerd territory.

Vibe:

- Rare silhouettes
 - Experimental cuts
 - Deconstructed fits
 - Conceptual styling
- Feels like wearable art.

12. Workwear Streetwear

Utility clothing turned cool.

Vibe:

- Carpenter pants
 - Denim jackets, chore coats
 - Boots, rugged fabrics
 - Earthy palettes
- Built-to-work, styled-to-walk.

Tiny cheat-sheet:

- Baggy skate kid → Skater
- Futuristic ninja → Tech wear
- Rich but cool → Luxury Streetwear
- 2000s nostalgia → Y2K
- Thrift + vintage → Retro
- Fashion experimental → Japanese / Avant-Garde
- Clean oversized → Minimalist
- Hiking but stylish → Gorpcore
- Rap-inspired → Hip-Hop
- Dark messy aesthetic → Grunge
- Rugged utility → Workwear

Streetwear is basically self-expression with sneakers as punctuation.

FORMAL:

Formalwear is a whole ecosystem too. Think of it as different “dialects” of polished dressing, from boardroom precision to black-tie elegance.

1. Business Formal

Classic corporate, serious, executive energy.

Vibe:

- Structured suits
- Dress shirts, ties
- Leather dress shoes
- Navy, charcoal, black, white

Common pieces:

- Two or three-piece suits
 - Oxfords, derbies
 - Minimal accessories, watches
- Mood: boardroom, presentations, leadership.

2. Business Casual

Professional, but less rigid.

Vibe:

- Blazers + chinos
- Knit polos, Oxford shirts
- Loafers, clean leather sneakers (sometimes)

Palette:

- Navy, beige, olive, grey
- Mood: startup founder, office-smart.

3. Classic Formal / Traditional Formal

Timeless elegance, wedding or event-ready.

Vibe:

- Tailored suits
 - Crisp shirts
 - Pocket squares, ties
- Feels refined without screaming attention.

4. Black Tie Formal

Evening luxury, event prestige.

Vibe:

- Tuxedo
 - Bow tie
 - Patent leather shoes
 - White shirt, black palette
- Mood: gala, red carpet, luxury dinner.

5. White Tie Formal

The highest level of formalwear.

Vibe:

- Tailcoat
 - White bow tie and waistcoat
 - Highly ceremonial styling
- Very rare today.

6. Italian Formal (Sprezzatura)

Elegant but intentionally effortless.

Vibe:

- Relaxed tailoring
 - Linen or lightweight wool
 - Open collars sometimes
 - Pocket squares styled casually
- Feels expensive yet relaxed.

7. British Tailoring / Savile Row Formal

Sharp, structured, heritage tailoring.

Vibe:

- Structured shoulders
 - Tweed or wool
 - Precise tailoring
 - Dark, rich tones
- Strong, classic silhouette.

8. French Minimal Formal

Quiet elegance.

Vibe:

- Slim silhouettes
 - Understated luxury
 - Neutral colours
 - Minimal accessories
- Very “less but better.”

9. Modern Corporate Luxury

The quiet-luxury CEO look.

Vibe:

- Perfectly fitted suits
 - Premium fabrics
 - Minimal branding
 - Neutral monochrome styling
- Money whispers.

10. Smart Casual (bridge category)

Between formal and casual.

Vibe:

- Tailored trousers
 - Knitwear, polos, blazers
 - Loafers or sleek sneakers
- Relaxed sophistication.

11. Dark Academia Formal

Formalwear with intellectual drama.

Vibe:

- Turtlenecks under blazers
 - Wool trousers, loafers
 - Vintage watches, muted palettes
- Library-meets-tailoring energy.

12. Old Money Formal

Generational-wealth elegance.

Vibe:

- Conservative tailoring
- Heritage fabrics
- Navy, cream, brown, deep green
- Loafers, signet rings, understated watches

Quick cheat-sheet:

- CEO / boardroom → Business Formal
- Office but relaxed → Business Casual
- Wedding / classy event → Classic Formal
- Gala / luxury night → Black Tie
- Royal / ultra-elite event → White Tie
- Elegant but relaxed → Italian Sprezzatura
- Sharp traditional tailoring → British Formal
- Minimal luxury → French Minimal
- Quiet luxury executive → Modern Corporate Luxury
- Semi-polished → Smart Casual
- Scholarly formal → Dark Academia Formal
- Heritage rich vibe → Old Money Formal

Formalwear is basically architecture for clothing: structure, proportion, and tiny details quietly doing heavy lifting.

Two very different kinds of chaos: one sparkles under flip phones and chrome, the other lives in a guitar riff and rainy parking lot.

1. Y2K Aesthetic (late 90s → early 2000s nostalgia)

Futuristic optimism mixed with pop culture chaos. Think: glossy magazines, MP3 players, cyber vibes, chunky tech, shiny textures.

Vibe:

- Loud, playful, experimental
- Pop-star energy, internet nostalgia, mall culture
- Chrome, futuristic details, layered styling

Colour palette:

- Silver, metallics, baby blue, hot pink, black, white, denim blue, shiny neutrals

Clothing:

- Baggy jeans, cargos, parachute pants
- Oversized graphic tees, baby tees, cropped jackets
- Jerseys, zip hoodies, layered tops
- Chunky sneakers, tinted sunglasses

Accessories:

- Chrome jewellery, belts, mini bags, headphones, rings

Substyles inside Y2K:

- McBling Y2K → flashy, rhinestones, glam celebrity energy
- Cyber Y2K → futuristic, metallic, tech-core
- Skater Y2K → baggy denim + skate influence
- Sporty Y2K → jerseys, tracksuits, athletic vibes

Mood references:

- Flip phones, camcorders, CD players, low-res flash photography

Keywords:

- 2000s nostalgia
- Futuristic retro
- Internet-core

2. Grunge Aesthetic

Born from rebellion and alternative music culture. Anti-polished, emotionally textured, intentionally imperfect.

Two very different kinds of chaos: one sparkles under flip phones and chrome, the other lives in a guitar riff and rainy parking lot.

1. Y2K Aesthetic (late 90s → early 2000s nostalgia)

Futuristic optimism mixed with pop culture chaos. Think: glossy magazines, MP3 players, cyber vibes, chunky tech, shiny textures.

Vibe:

Loud, playful, experimental

Pop-star energy, internet nostalgia, mall culture

Chrome, futuristic details, layered styling

Colour palette:

Silver, metallics, baby blue, hot pink, black, white, denim blue, shiny neutrals

Clothing:

Baggy jeans, cargos, parachute pants
Oversized graphic tees, baby tees, cropped jackets
Jerseys, zip hoodies, layered tops
Chunky sneakers, tinted sunglasses

Accessories:

Chrome jewellery, belts, mini bags, headphones, rings

Substyles inside Y2K:

McBling Y2K → flashy, rhinestones, glam celebrity energy
Cyber Y2K → futuristic, metallic, tech-core
Skater Y2K → baggy denim + skate influence
Sporty Y2K → jerseys, tracksuits, athletic vibes

Mood references:

Flip phones, camcorders, CD players, low-res flash photography

Keywords:

2000s nostalgia
Futuristic retro
Internet-core

2. Grunge Aesthetic

Born from rebellion and alternative music culture. Anti-polished, emotionally textured, intentionally imperfect.

Vibe:

Raw, melancholic, rebellious
Vintage band posters, rainy nights, analogue photography
“I dressed without trying” energy that secretly took thought

Colour palette:

Black, grey, dark green, washed denim, deep red, muted earth tones

Clothing:

Flannels, distressed denim
Oversized sweaters, vintage band tees
Ripped jeans, layered basics
Combat boots, chunky shoes

Accessories:

Chains, rings, beanies, worn leather details

Substyles inside Grunge:

Classic Grunge → 90s rock influence, flannel-heavy

Soft Grunge → Tumblr-era, softer colours + dark mood

Punk Grunge → heavier rebellion, chains, leather

Dark Grunge → moodier, monochrome, dramatic

Mood references:

Garage bands, cassette tapes, rainy streets, grainy film photos

Keywords:

Alternative fashion

Anti-fashion fashion

Moody rebellion

Vibe:

- Raw, melancholic, rebellious
- Vintage band posters, rainy nights, analogue photography
- “I dressed without trying” energy that secretly took thought

Colour palette:

- Black, grey, dark green, washed denim, deep red, muted earth tones

Clothing:

- Flannels, distressed denim
- Oversized sweaters, vintage band tees
- Ripped jeans, layered basics
- Combat boots, chunky shoes

Accessories:

- Chains, rings, beanies, worn leather details

Substyles inside Grunge:

- Classic Grunge → 90s rock influence, flannel-heavy
- Soft Grunge → Tumblr-era, softer colours + dark mood
- Punk Grunge → heavier rebellion, chains, leather
- Dark Grunge → moodier, monochrome, dramatic

Mood references:

- Garage bands, cassette tapes, rainy streets, grainy film photos

Keywords:

- Alternative fashion
- Anti-fashion fashion
- Moody rebellion

Two aesthetics that walk into a room and instantly change the soundtrack. One mixes football jerseys with ribbons, the other arrives wrapped in shadows and poetry.

1. Blokette Core

A mashup of sporty “blokecore” + ultra-feminine styling. Think football culture meeting bows, ballet flats, pearls, soft-girl details.

Vibe:

- Sporty + delicate contrast
- Casual but styled
- Playful, trendy, Pinterest-heavy

Colour palette:

- Whites, reds, blues, neutrals, pops of pastel or sporty team colours

Clothing:

- Oversized football jerseys
- Mini skirts, pleated skirts, denim
- Track jackets, oversized tees
- Ballet flats, sneakers

Accessories:

- Hair ribbons, bows, pearls, tote bags, layered jewellery

Mood references:

- Match-day jersey + café date energy
- “Sporty but cute” styling

Substyles:

- Sporty Blokette → more jersey/streetwear-heavy
- Coquette Blokette → softer, ribbons and feminine details
- Vintage Blokette → retro football fashion + old-school styling

Keywords:

- Sporty femininity
- Football-meets-fashion
- Streetwear + soft details

2. Goth (Gothic Aesthetic)

Dark, dramatic, artistic, often tied to alternative music and gothic fashion culture. Goth is a big mansion with many rooms.

Vibe:

- Dramatic, mysterious, expressive
- Romantic darkness, individuality, alternative culture
- Art, poetry, music, symbolism

Colour palette:

- Black (of course), charcoal, deep red, silver, dark purple, deep green

Clothing:

- Long coats, corset-inspired pieces
- Fishnets, lace, velvet, leather
- Boots, platforms, layered black outfits
- Dramatic silhouettes

Accessories:

- Silver jewellery, rings, chains, chokers, crosses, lace gloves

Major Goth divisions:

Traditional Goth (Trad Goth)

The classic gothic look rooted in post-punk music.

Vibe:

- Big teased hair
- Dark eyeliner

- Black layered clothing
- Fishnets, boots

Romantic Goth

Victorian poetry in outfit form.

Vibe:

- Velvet, lace, flowing garments
- Elegant silhouettes
- Gothic romance energy

Victorian Goth

Historical elegance with dark drama.

Vibe:

- High collars, corsetry
- Long coats, antique influence

Punk Goth / Deathrock

Rougher, rebellious, louder.

Vibe:

- Leather, spikes, DIY styling
- Heavy music influence

Nu Goth

Modern minimalist goth.

Vibe:

- Clean silhouettes
- Streetwear influence
- Mostly monochrome black

Pastel Goth

Cute meets creepy.

Vibe:

- Black mixed with pastel pink/purple
- Soft details + gothic symbolism